A Fresh Look At HHS

A fresh look at HHS. Many changes have occured at HHS to give it a "fresh look." New faces, new rules, new classes. Due to low enrollment in the city schools, the Freshman Class became a new addition to HHS. Many teachers from the newly reorganized middle school were also added to accomodate sufficient classes for the freshmen. Mr. Eric Witherspoon joined Mr. Anderson as assistants to the principal. The school day began and ended at a later time to allow zero hour courses to be added to the curiculum.

Zero hour included personal typing, jazz band and gifted and talented classes. A.P. and medical biology and a radio and TV course were also added to the regular curriculum. The print shop was reopened at the beginning of second semester due to high outside printing costs. Because of the new state guidelines requiring 180 hours in the classroom per week, there were no pep sessions or convocations, and clubs were forced to meet after school. After the removal of asbestos, the auditionum and lecture rooms were opened before Christmas break. An elevator was completed for the benefit of handicapped students. Along with the addition of freshmen in HHS sports, a girls' softball team was welcomed into the athletic department. The '84-85 school year was indeed a year of new and different approaches and experiences. Though a few difficulties arose, such as crowded halls and lunch hours, HHS accepted its new personality and its 'tiresh look.''

The Freshman Class of '88 didn't hesitate in participating in school activities.

Students organize SADD group

A new organization, Students Against Driving Drunk (SADD), was established by three seniors - Shawn Lake, Jerri Ervin, and Michelle Sopko. They promoted membership through leaflets and collected 50 members. They received donations from local businesses and purchased buttons and bumper stickers. A convo was presented by a representative from SADD to create school and public awareness of the effects and results of driving drunk. Several members also presented open-ended skits for the middle school and answered questions at the conclusion.

The Investment Club purchased stock from Liz Claibourne, Inc., and made money. The club's purpose was to teach the 17 members how to invest and make money in the market.

The Arts & Crafts Club consisted of 20 members. The club met after school for students to do extra work on their projects or for those who didn't have a chance to fit crafts into their schedule.

Languages participate in parade

The Foreign Language Clubs joined together in many activities this year. Students from all three languages. Spanish, German, and French, made a display for the show case during Christmastime. They also sold donuts on Friday mornings and participated in the Football Homecoming parade. Candy sales went throughout the year. Individually, there were different activities. The French Club, consisting of 80 members, visited the Chicago Art Institute and Water Tower Place. The 180 members of the Spanish Club sponsored Daffodil Day, an American Lung Association fundraiser. Exchange students were hosted from Christian Ernst Gymnasium by the German Club. There were 30 members.

SENIORS:

The Senior Class of 1985 left the small environment of Hobart High School and entered the real world of college, careers and marriage. Even though jobs were scarce and money was tight, the Class of 1985 overcame the economy to pursue their dreams and to fulfill their goals. The class also strived to succeed in life and to keep their high standards to achieve their goals. The Class of 1985 gave society many scholars, athletes, and fine citizens.

The class motto was "Build for character, not for fame." The class colors were navy blue and gold. The class flower was the red rose. The football homecoming queen was Tina Horvat and Shawn Lake was crowned as basketball homecoming queen.

JUNIORS

The Junior Class experienced many changes due to the new state requirements. The class treasury had $2,000 to spend for the Junior-Senior Prom, "Moonlight Serenade", which it sponsored April 27 at St. Sava Hall. Besides the Prom, a selected group of juniors served as ushers and distributed programs at the graduation ceremonies. The theme for the Junior Class float for the 1984 Football Homecoming was "Smoke 'Em". The junior princess was Jenny Fraser, Paula Shafer was crowned as the Basketball Homecoming princess. The juniors will be enjoying a new lobby which was constructed.

FRESHMEN

The Freshmen Class of the 4984-85 school year, or more commonly known as the Class of '88, went through many changes when they came to HHS. The Freshman Class was permanently added to the high school for the first time. This class struggled to fit in where they were not used to being. For the first time, freshmen ran for Homecoming princess. Freshmen were not permitted to attend the prom. The Football Homecoming princess was Chandra Solivais and the Basketball Homecoming Princess was Jenny Sauer.

Class officers: Treasurer Sean Michael, President John Batistatos, Vice President Buffy Anderson.

The major change made by the administration was the reorganization of the city schools. Hobart Senior High School became a four-year high school. Along with the freshmen, who caused auite a crowd crunch in some areas, came 16 teachers. The junior high was changed to a grades six, seven and eight middle school. Interpreting new C and G guidelines was also the job of the administration. One of these was a minimum instruction time which led to a longer school day. Another major task was to remove the asbestos which was discovered a year earlier in the auditorium and lecture rooms. The job was finally completed in the middle of December. Thomas Chelle and Marilyn Holscher were appointed as new members of the school board.

Department receives new textbooks

The entire English Department received new textbooks. The books included grammar and English and American literature books. In all senior composition classes, students were required to write a research paper among many other themes. In Miss Haladay's novel class, students were required to pick a chapter out of a novel and explain it to the rest of the class. In foreign language classes, students did skits for the entire class pertaining to a certain chapter in their textbooks.

After 23 years of teaching at Hobart High School, Mrs. Elizabeth Christner retired, effective at the end of the school year.

The publications room was relocated twice during the school year. The first semester publications was in Room 101, formerly the print shop. Due to the print shop reopening second semester, both staffs were relocated to Room 101A, formerly Ms. Seaton-Sebby's room. Memories and Ho-Hi Life staffs were unusually small this year. The newspaper was published only once a month due to only three people on the staff. Since the print shop was closed first semester Ho-Hi Life had to send the paper to Curry Printers in Merrillville for printing. The Memories staff, consisting of five people, was forced to raise the price to $18.

Print Shop brought back second semester

Building trades was dropped from the curriculum because a previous project, a house, wasn't sold. The print shop returned to HHS after Christmas vacation. The shop was brought back to save the school money. Only materials had to be paid for and money was saved on labor because students did the work. Mr. Joe Mrak had been teaching print shop for the four years he has been at HHS. The drafting students worked on their own floor plans for a house. Two new classes, Consumer Education and Interpersonal Relationships, were added to the Home Economics Department. Each of Mrs. Diane Lawrence's classes were responsibe for bulletin boards and display cases in the hallway. Also speakers were included in the home economics classes.

The varsity team overcame a seeminaly 5-5 season to complete its fourth consecutive undefeated season with a sixth consecutive playoff appearance, which is a state record. The aridders have 49 consecutive regular season wins, 45 of which were in Brickie Bowl. For the seventh year straight they were the DAC champs. Head Coach Don Howell was named the DAC Coach of the Year in his 19th year of coaching. DAC MVP was awarded to Senior Mark Zanolla. Senior Mike Budzielek kicked a state record PAT of 125. Six seniors were listed as All-Staters, while eight seniors and a junior were put on the All-Conference team.

Varsity gridders play good season despite state loss

The reserve team played well this year following a slow start. The gridders began the season by losing two of their first three games. The team progressed well and won five of its last six contests. Highlights of the season included four consecutive shut-outs over teams like Crown Point, LaPorte, Chesterton and Portage, commented Coaches Steve Balash and Craig Buford.

Freshmen gridders played a terrific 7-1 season. The season opened with a runaway victory over Andrean, 43-2. The only disappointment for the year was a loss against LaPorte. The inspired frosh had many leading scores; including John Batistatos, Chris Drobac, Jeff Ford, Phil Gilyan, Rich LaBounty, Chris Mudry and John Noble. Captains were Ford, Gilyan, Jason Mergl and Noble for the "84 season.

The boys tennis team won half of its matches this season. Mr. Tom Wuchner coached the team for the 13th year and was assisted by Bob Clifford. The most improved player was Todd Tarchala. The player with the most Brickle Spirit was David kaldi. Coaches' Tourney was Joe Vossberg. The most valuable player was Mile Didonna. John Webber was All-Conference. Mr. Wuchner said he was fortunate that the team placed third in the Duneland Conference considering that there were only three seniors.

Winning a close match at Lowell and the doubles team of Seniors Jerri Ervin and Cassi Hinshaw, were the highlights of the girls' tennis team's 4-8 season. Sixth year Coach Thomas Wuchner felt that the team lacked strength in singles and lost close matches because of this. However, the season was spent developing some outstanding young players for future years, including Kristal Barnes, Heidi Wuchner and Janet Kostromin. Awards went to Captain Jerri Ervin, most valuable player; Janet Neely, most improved; and Michelle Riley, best player. The reserve record was 9-4.

Mrs. Christner retires

"Go for it," commented Mrs. Elizabeth Christner, when asked what advice she would give to students comtemplating a career in teaching. Mrs. Christner feels it is a rewarding career for anyone who enjoys being a positive influence on maturing young people, has an avid imagination and is willing to work. As she retires from HHS after 23 years, Mrs. Christner finds the greatest change in teaching within the students themselves, because now they have "a purpose, a seriousness, in their approach to education and a career." Mrs. Christner taught for 12 years in her home town of Washington, Pennsylvania. She attended Catham College in Pittsburgh where she received her bachelor's degree. She received her master's from Valparaiso University, majoring in English and history. Mrs. Christner will miss the companionship of the staff and the close association with the students. Her future plans include family, classes at VU and touring Europe.

School Renovation: New Old Lobby?

Renovation of what was once called the "old lobby" has been discussed by the school board and the administration for approximately six years. The committee was concerned about the poor lighting and the undesirable "closed in" atmosphere of the lobby. They felt the dim, dinay commons was not becoming to the school and that the students needed an adequate and presentable place to congregate before, after and during school hours. The open and airy concept conceived by the planners would perfectly benefit the student body, faculty and community. Another concern was the lack of available space in the trophy cases. The administration wanted to feature the awards and trophies earned by the student body in space adequate and appropriate for these honors. Reconstruction began in early March and was complete in August. Because the project was funded by the state, the lobby had to be finished before the 1985-86 school year or the finances would have been forfeited to another school.

PAPER ...for a Good Look

It's totally unbelievable! When I found out last spring that I was the 1985 Memories editor, I was elated. But when I discovered the staff had decreased to a total of four regular members and three or four photographers, I began to panic. Even though we had a few minor problems, I feel we all became a little closer as the year progressed. It's true, no one on the staff ever met a deadline, but most of the time things were fairly under control. I really believe that our smaller staff worked well together, because no one could shrug off her responsibilities on someone else.

Now that the book is completed and my headaches are almost over, I would like to take this opportunity to say goodbye to my staff members:

To Julie and Diana, thanks for sacrificing your time and fighting to photograph the wrestlers and boys' track teams. Best wishes to Larry, Jody—Thanks for the food runs. John—Thanks for all the extra time you have put in. I really appreciate it. Jeanean—Your help was greatly needed. Thanks. Cindy, I wish we had a nickel for every layout we've done and redone and redone and redone and redone and redone.

Mrs. Lambeth, I owe you the most thanks for your patience and understanding throughout the years. You're really very special to me. I hope you saved a few aspirins for next year.

And to next year's editor, Kristi Rogula ... enjoy your "harem." Don't worry, Mrs. L. found out what caused it. Best of Luck to you!
